

HOW TO PLAY WHO IS?

INSTRUCTION MANUAL

THE COUPLES COMPANY

HOW TO PLAY WITH A GROUP

The game is played with a group of couples facing off against one another to see which couple knows each other the best. Get ready for the "Battle of the Relationships!"

GETTING STARTED

- Each round consists of each couple answering five cards that are read to them.
- The couple that goes first is the one who has spent the shortest amount of time together; putting new relationships to test.
- Each partner takes one "ME" card & one "YOU" card to use to answer the questions being read to them. A host is then chosen from another couple to read the five cards aloud.

PLAYING THE GAME

- Partners in the couple seat themselves back to back to make sure there is no cheating!
- As the host reads out each statement, the partners in the couple that are in the spotlight will hold up either a "ME" card or a "YOU" card to depict the partner that the statement best describes. If both partners respond with the same answer the couple gets a point!
- This is repeated until the couple answers five cards. Each round is completed once every couple in the group has read and answered five cards.

WINNING THE GAME

- The first couple that gets to 25 points are crowned Relationship Royalty of the night and are the official winners of the game! (Feel free to set a more aggressive point goal or start the game over!)

HOW TO PLAY JUST YOU TWO

The game will test your knowledge about each other in both a fun and intimate way. It's time to see how well you know your partner and how well your partner knows you. This should be fun, challenging and lead to awesome conversation!

GETTING STARTED

- Make a bet between each other on who you both think will win. Bigger the bet, the better the game.
- At the beginning of the game, each partner will draw fifteen cards. In our case beauty comes before age; so the younger player goes first!
- The round starts by having the first partner read one card aloud. The opposing partner decides who the statement best describes in the relationship. If the couple agrees on the answer, the answering partner wins the card and earns a point.

PLAYING THE GAME

- Repeat this process while alternating who is reading and who is answering until all cards are read and answered.

WINNING THE GAME

- The partner with the most points at the end of the game is the official winner of date night and wins the bet. If you didn't make one, the winning partner gets a massage!

OTHER RULES TO KEEP THE PEACE

THE FASTER, THE BETTER

- The quicker or faster a couple can answer the question, the more fun for everyone. Don't think too much; answer based on your first instinct.

THE PEANUT GALLERY

- Don't answer the question for the couple in the spotlight, although who doesn't love a little fun commentary here and there?

TIE BREAKERS

- More than one couple won 25 cards? That's cute, now play a tiebreaker round. Each couple continues to answer additional questions until they lose a point. The couple with the most cards at the end, wins!
